

Altruism

We are surrounded by opportunities to be altruistic, but we do not always react to them in an altruistic way.

Below are four appeals for altruism. How would you respond to them? Would you help or not? Which factors might affect your decision to help? How would you feel about helping – or not helping?

